

Faces of the Enemy: Reflections of the Hostile Imagination

This book shows how ordinary and seemingly decent people can be stirred to hate and even to kill their neighbours, using the twisted caricatures of propaganda posters, biased cartoons, and distorted images served up in print and on screen. In pictures and in text, noted philosopher and Jungian Sam Keen delves beneath legitimate grievances and questions of right and wrong to get at the psychological mechanism of enmity itself.

Examines the psychology of hatred and aggression, by which ones fears and inadequacies are projected onto others, dehumanizing them into enemies and Sam Keen, author of twelve books, including Fire in the Belly, served as consulting editor at Psychology Today for many years.
